BENEFITING ST. JUDE HOSPITAL

FIRST ANNUAL PRINCESS PAGEANT

Never in our lives did we think we would step foot inside St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. And then it was our child, our first baby, not even 1 year old. Tatum Jo was born May 9th, 2013 very small (4 lbs 10 oz) but healthy. At her 2 month appointment our perfect world spiraled with the words "CT scan", "brain tumor", and "ICU". Yet somehow through God's grace & places like Le Bonheur Children's Hospital & St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, Tatum has been symptom-free, treatment-free & approaching 1 year being tumor-free. We travel to St. Jude for MRIs every 3 months & will continue to do so until Tatum is 15. In the past year we have met or learned about Brody, Bethany, Josiah, Knox, Sebastian, Jade & Charlie. The fact is, pediatric cancer is more common than you think, but rarely acknowledged until it personally affects you. Each of these children deserves a chance at life and that's what St. Jude gives. Every piece of research attained at St. Jude is freely shared with other hospitals around the world. We are incredibly fortunate to be a part of St. Jude, a place that exists because of the generosity of others.
